

The Nether

DESIGN BY SOPHIE FOUGERE

Emotional Response Mood Board Part 1

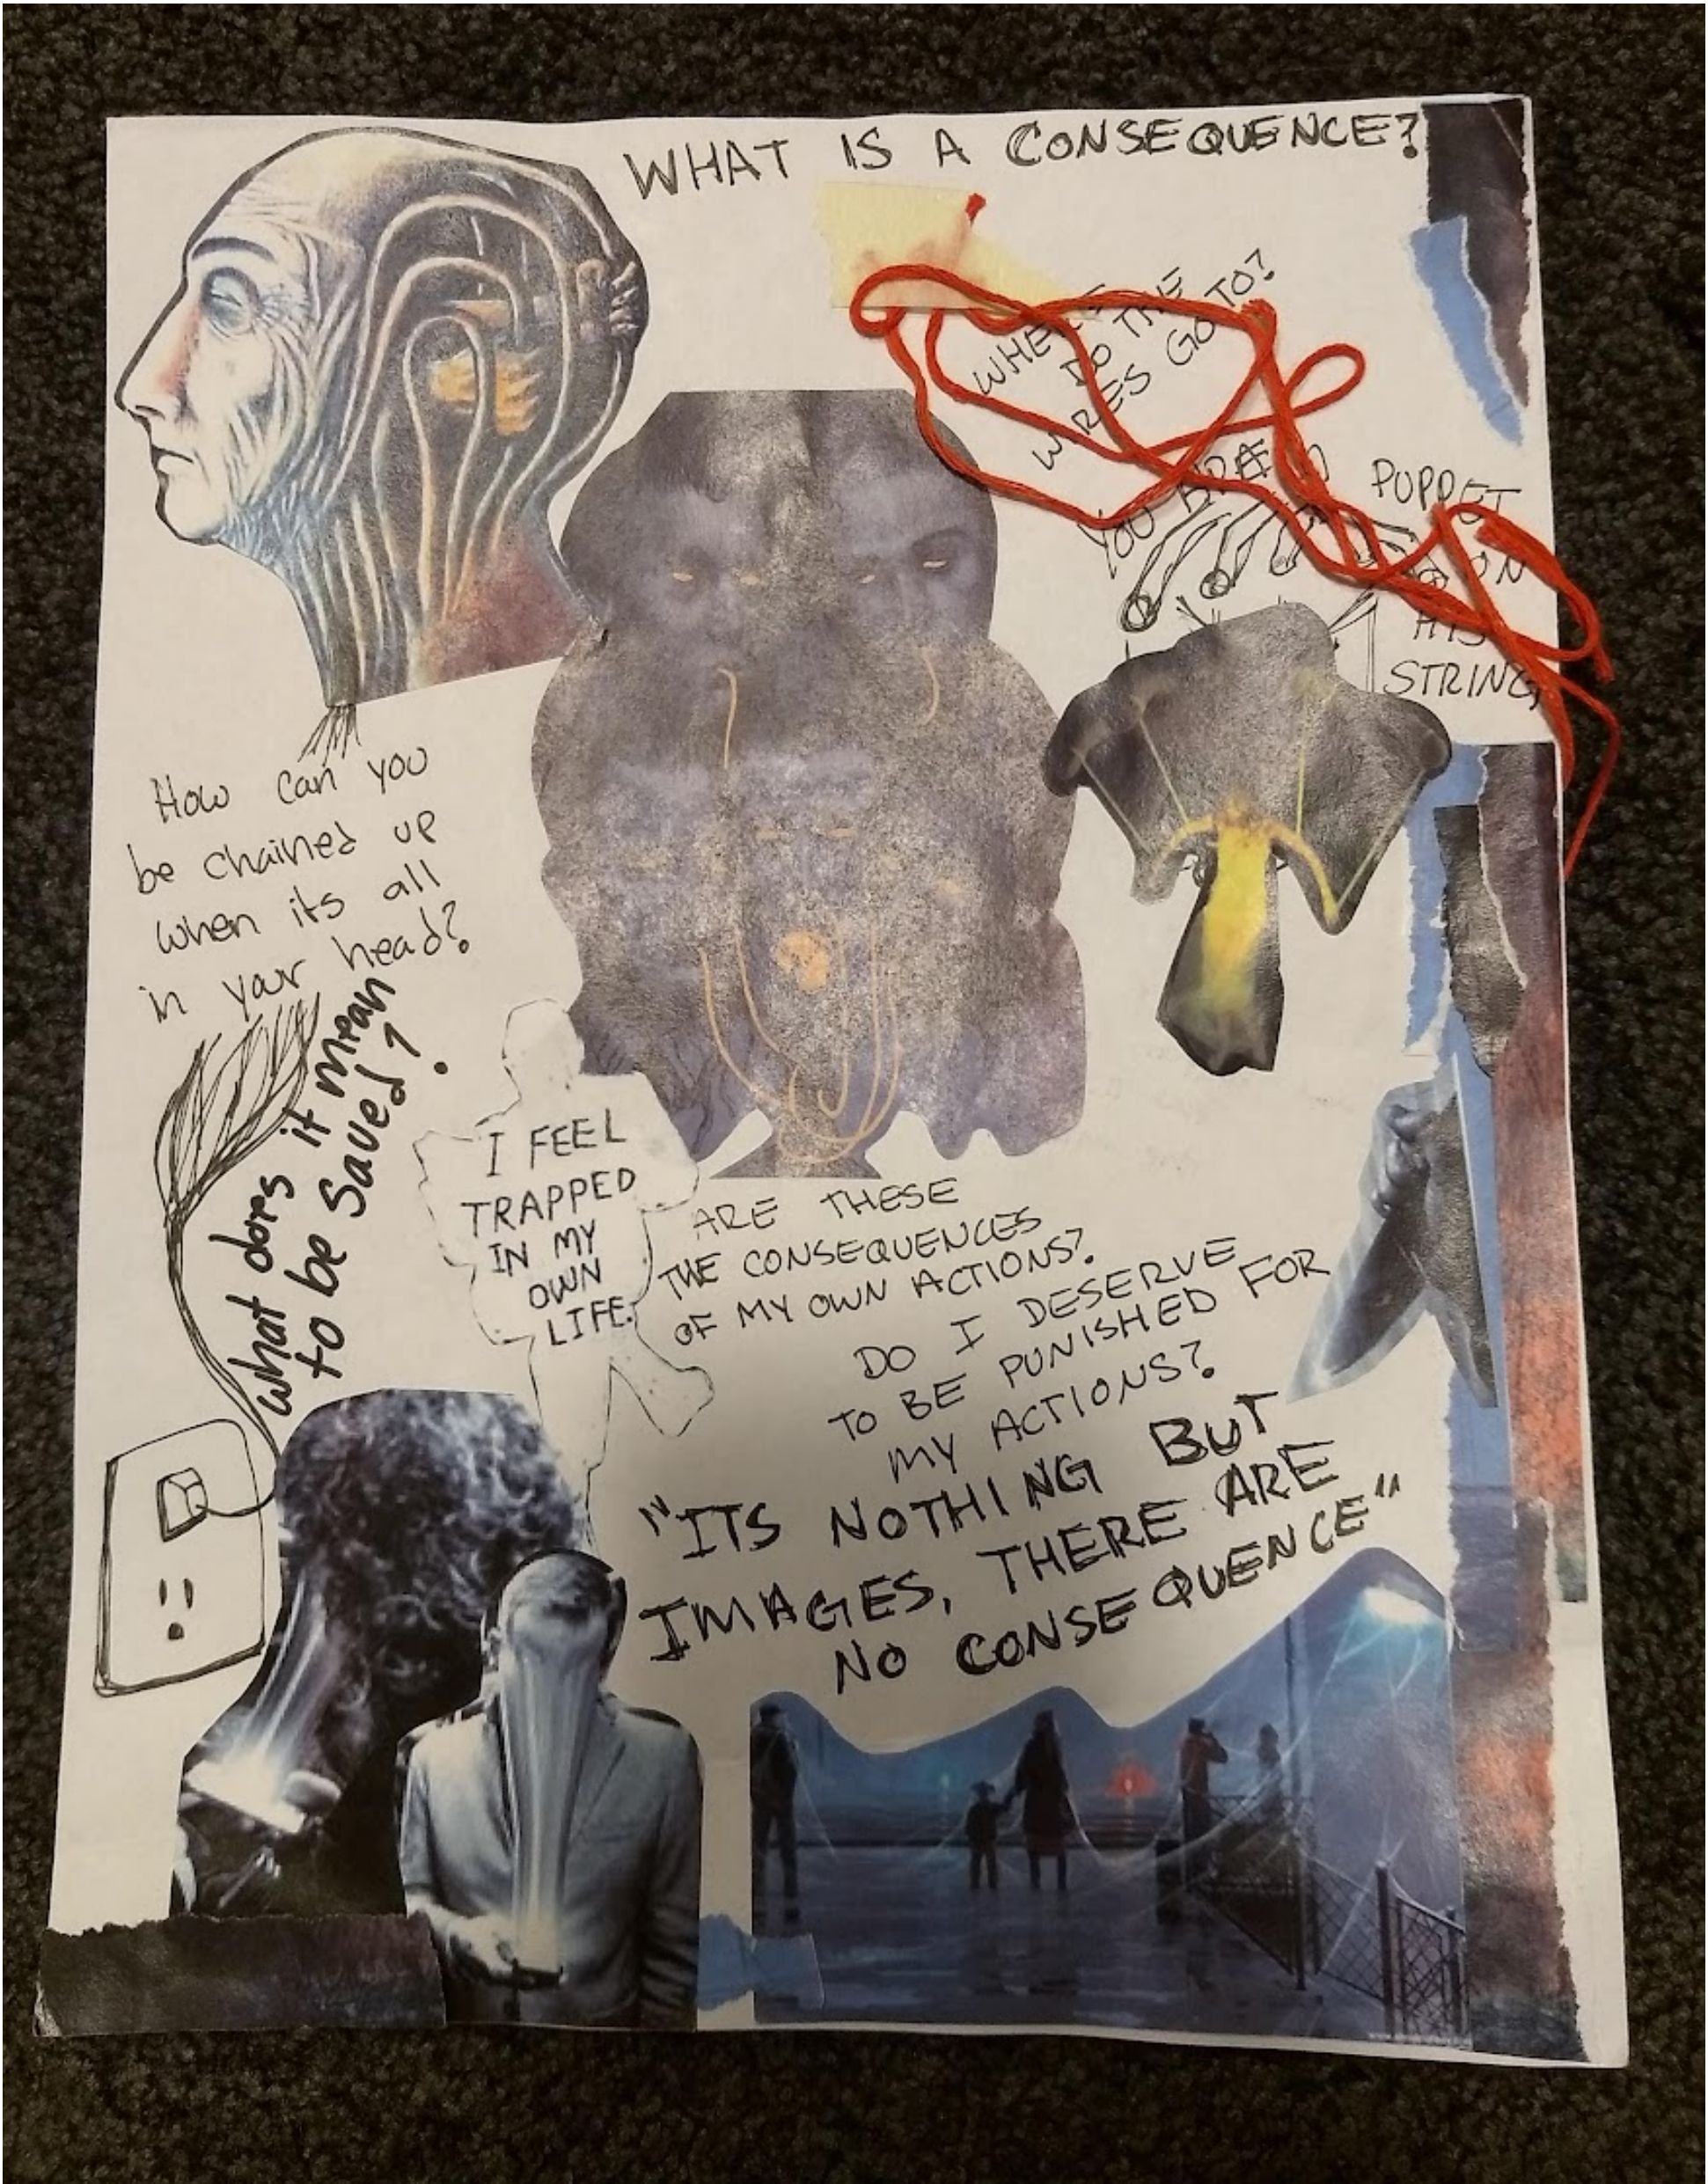

Emotional Response Mood Board Part 2

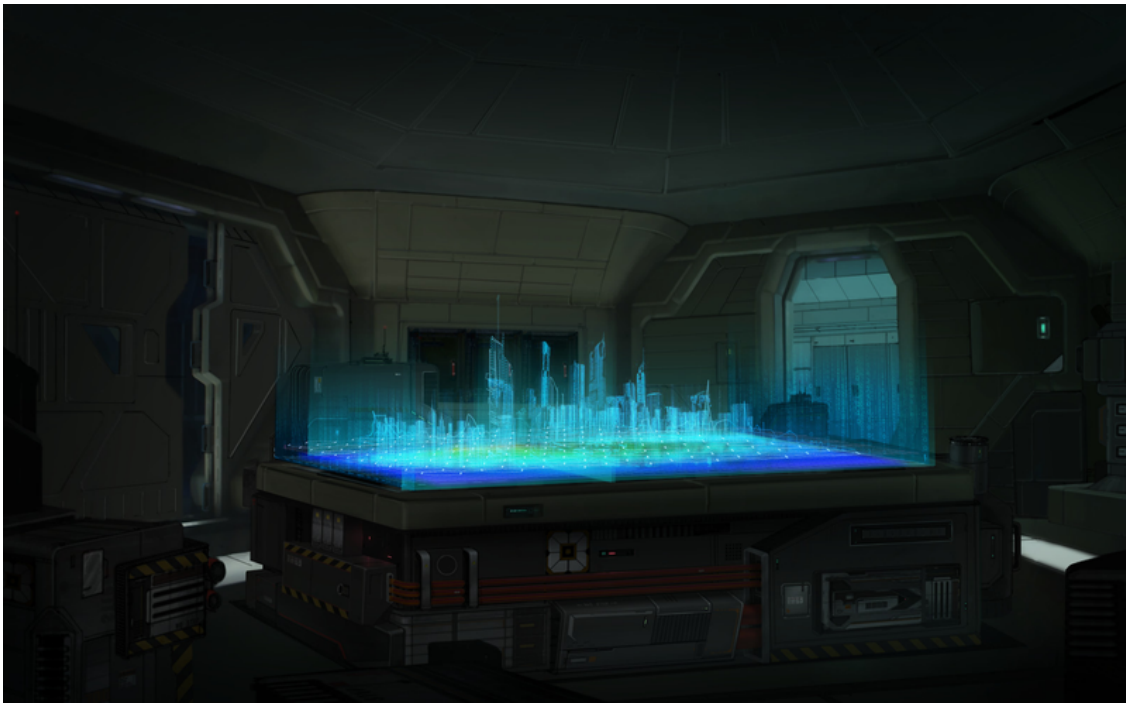

This was my visual art I created to represent the Hideaway and what it meant to the characters, asking who is really obsessed with who?

Emotional Response Mood Board Part 3

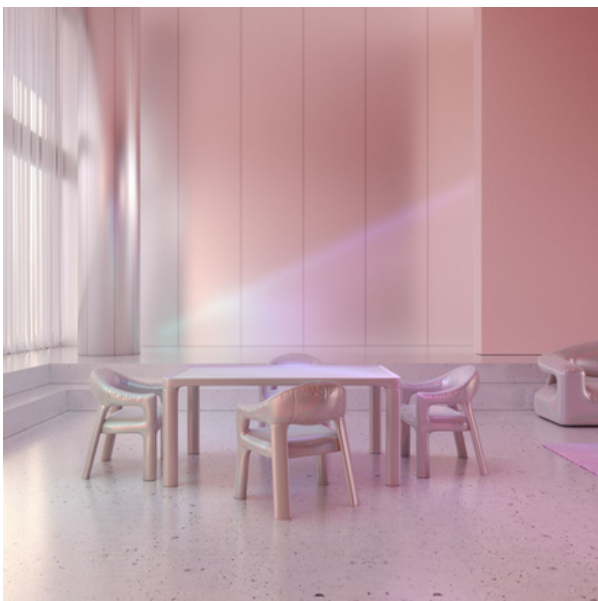

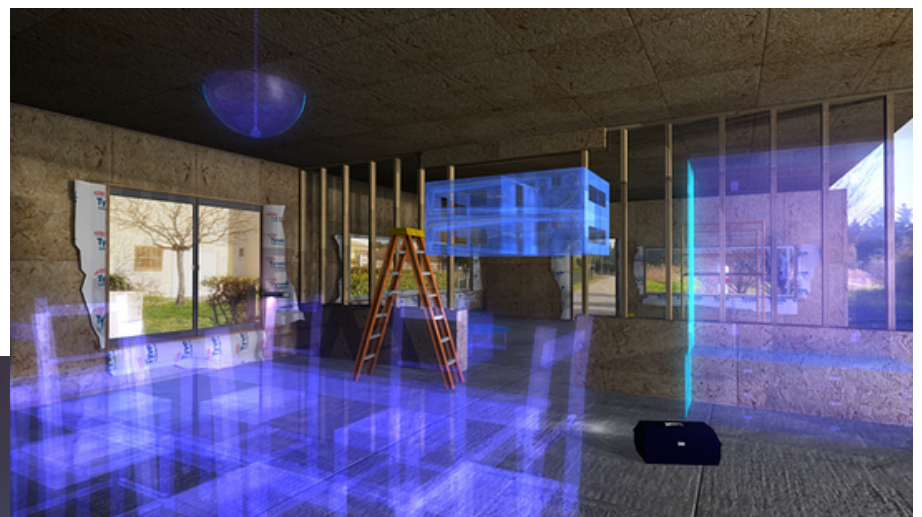

This was my visual art I created to represent the real world to build everything in. I wanted to play with the addiction of technology and what it means when they are all just images when dealing with consequences.

Architectural References

Interrogation room references
with textures.

A mix of holographs in real space with the blue tint.

If the hideaway was fully developed, I think this is what it would look like. I used this in reference for the floors and doors.
